

BIG BROTHER BIG SISTER PROJECT

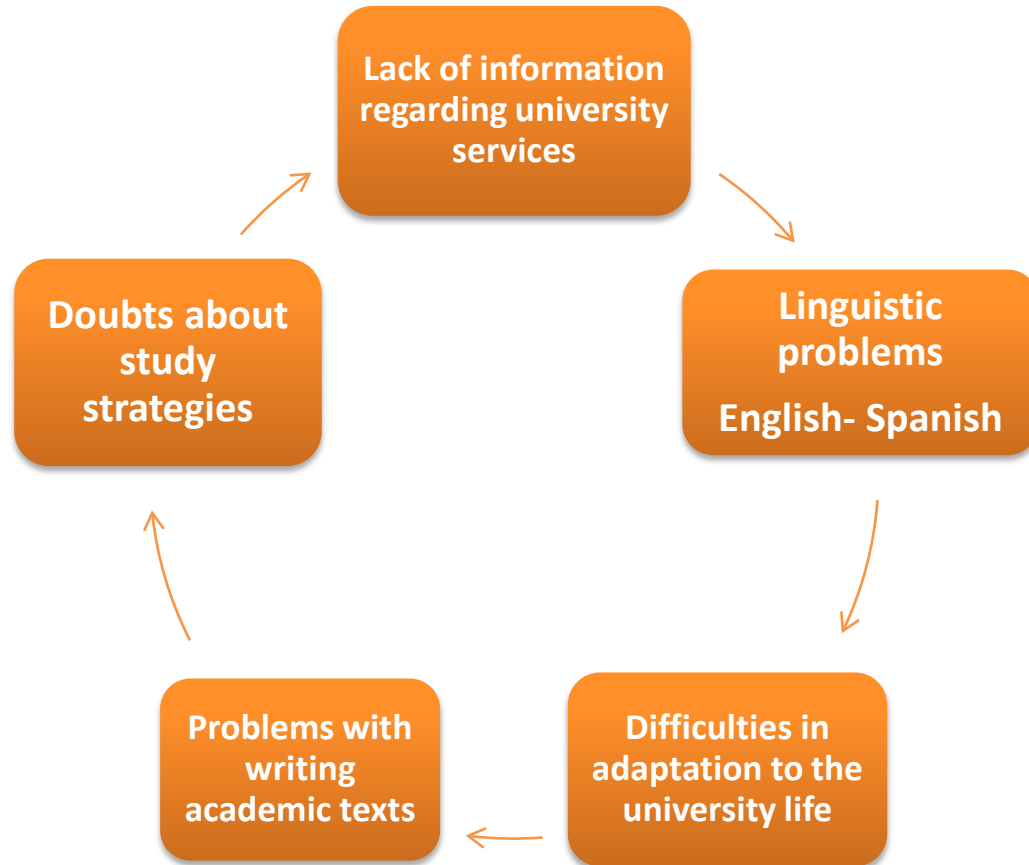

By: Michelle Ocampo
Leonardo Caro

PRESENTATION

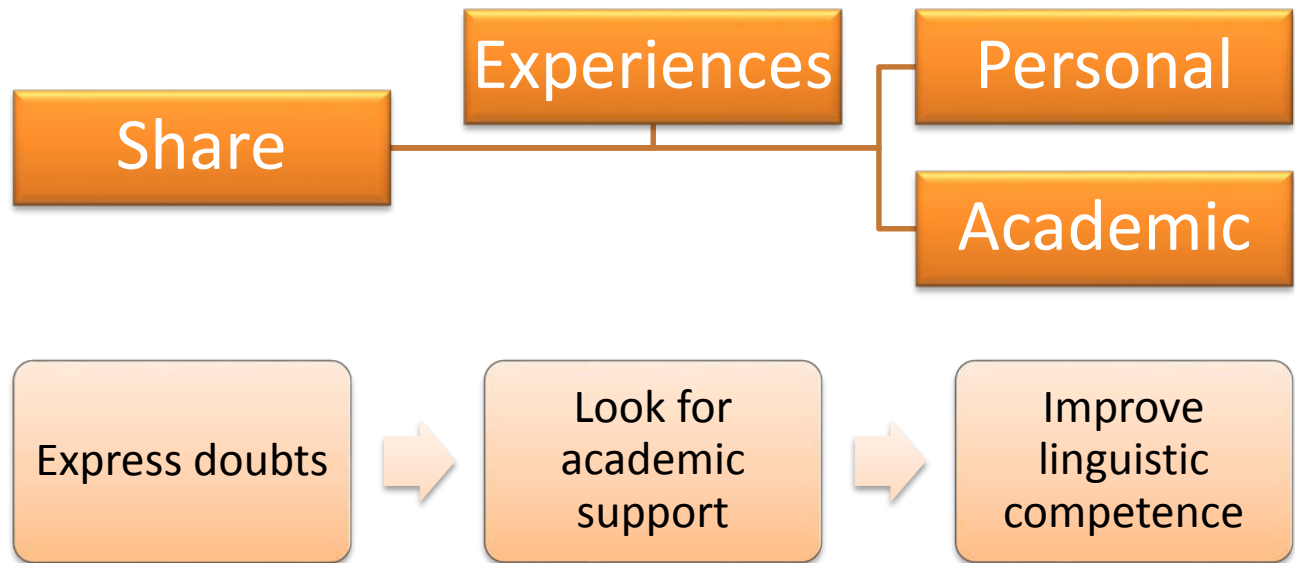

- Improve some starting process aspects in the English teaching program at FUNLAM.
- Adaptation to the university life
- Spaces to grow in academically and personally

SOME FACTORS

There is an invitation to

General Objective

To structure a meaningful and holistic process in order to accompany first semester students from the bachelor degree in English with the intention of preventing drop outs, also integrating those students into the academic life

Specific Objectives

To motivate collaborative learning between first and last semester students.

To support the first university experience of practicum students from the English teaching program

To advise first level students from the English teaching program regarding academic, informative and procedural aspects

To strengthen the students' perspectives, so they appropriate the content taught in the different courses and they can handle their feelings properly while facing challenges

To prevent drop outs while providing spaces for dialogue and reflection about the aspects concerning the university life.

To enable the professional development of practicum students at FUNLAM and at the same time improving the academic aspects.

Design

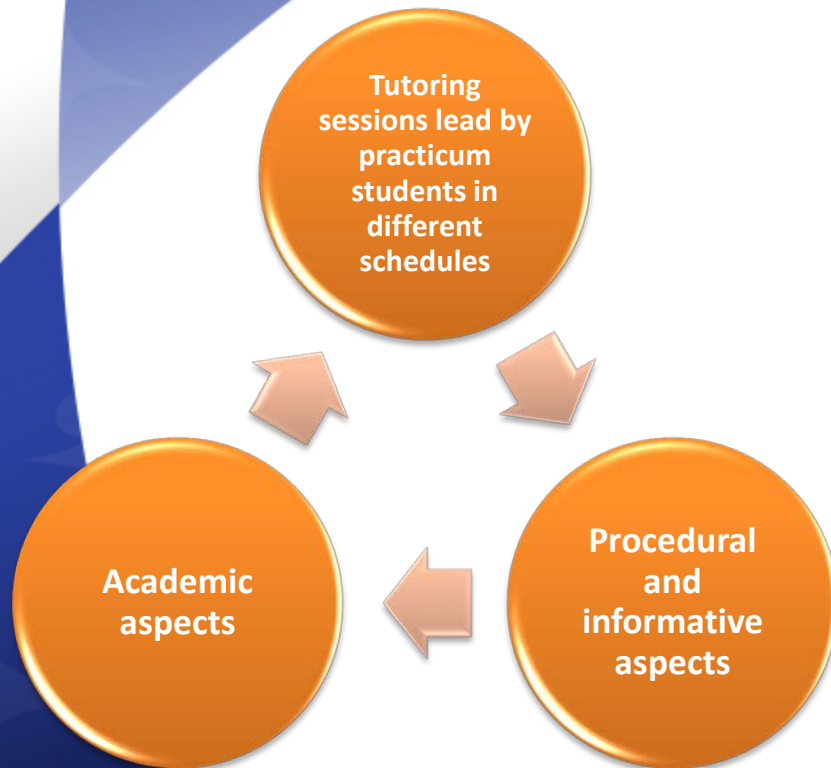

Nine (9) students from practicum III and IV, for accompanying first semester students

6 months length

Scheduled advisory meetings, contact via E-mail, and workshops/talks
